- 2 Impossible to get full credit on essays and short answer questions. A little too harsh and picky. Frustrating as a student who feels proud of the answers and essays they come up with seeing as they worked for hours on filling out notecards of what they THOUGHT were satisfactory answers. You can give an A+ effort in this class and he will give you a B thats just how it goes and it sucks.
- 3 The only complaint I really have is, I find it difficult to find online everything that was needed to complete an assignment within ecampus. It felt like a search find. I don't think I will ever take an online class again. It was just too confusing. I find it easier to go to class.

- 6 I think that this class should not be an online class. It is a lot of work for a short six week period. The teachers exams are three hours for 25 questions and all three of those hours are used. Majority of his multiple choice questions are "what did not happen with such an event" it is extremely time consuming, and i do not think the exams were fair. He could come up with a better way to ask his questions. His final exam and final paper fall on the same day. I think that our papers should be due on different days than the exams or quizzes.

- 10 The only thing that I would change about this course would be the feedback, I understand that online courses are more or less do it yourself but there weren't any notes or any specific things that we were ever told to concentrate on like a teacher would do in a lecture.
- 11 I was not particularly happy with the grading of essays and short assignments. During the first exam I wrote the best I could. During the second exam I wrote as much as I could. It seemed to me that it was quantity, rather than quality, that got me better grades.

- 5 Professor Emrick is very understanding about situations that come up. I ended up missing some assignments for medical reasons and he allowed me to make eveything up in a reasonable amount of time. I am so grateful for that! Also, I thought the class was organized well and I learned a lot.

- 8 This class was very informative and fun. I like having all the discussion boards. Since we weren't in a classroom it was nice to read other peoples opinions on the material. It offered a different view of what you were learning.
- 9 The syllabus was clear and helped me understand i had work to do everyday!
- 10 By being forced to actually do the readings this class did help me learn much more than I do in normal classrooms.
- 11 This was a very interesting course that was well structured.
