Very Knowledgeable and Enthusiastic. If he did not know the answer to a question he would admit his lack of knowledge and either follow up with the answer at another time or point you in the right direction. Fair and informative grading.	At times the momentum of the instruction was slowed or interrupted due to what I believe to be just some what of a lack in experience teaching. For example digressions and the over indulgence of clearly under thought questions from students.
This course was very interesting and I liked have both as instructors.
The instructor was very knowledgeable. He always was fair in his discussions about the different groups. Was very truthful in his knowledge and always acknowledge complicated topics and things he couldn't give a definitive answer on or that he didn't know. Always attempted to keep the students involved.
Instructor seemed to be very knowledgeable about this subject, and seemed to enjoy teaching this subject. This makes the class more interesting.
He was always very enthusiastic about the subject matter which made me want to come to class more. His positive attitude is infectious!	N/A
Very enthusiastic! Did well for being a young teacher. You will get better with time.	The only problem I had was that I feel I sometimes had trouble seeing how your lectures flowed together.
I think that both instructors were thorough in covering the material, and did do in a way that was easy to understand.	I wish that we had gotten more feedback/ constructive criticism on our essays.
I thought professor Emrick had a great sense of transition and consistent themes throughout his lectures. He generally had good anecdotes to supplement the material. He also effectively used visuals to help support his arguments. Definitely a great orator and intelligent professor on the subject matter.	I think for this course, I expected to learn more names and facts as opposed to generalized themes. Overall I'd say possibly needed to be more factual as opposed to generalized. But the level of the class did not call for that.
Prof. Emrick has a very engaging instructional manner and finds interesting, thought provoking ways to inspire both current and future discussion on the subject.
Knows the material extremely well and is a nice guy	He wasn't able to keep my attention ever, but that's my fault as much as his. Or maybe not. Dr. Boulware kept my attention. But I do admit I should have tried harder.
The instructor shared complete knowledge of the material covered and class and expanded on it during lectures.
N/A	It was to rushed class a times felt that direction was missing.
Good choice of material to present. Class was setup a lot diff. then I thought when scheduling and I liked it.	It was sometimes hard to take notes the powerpoints presented general jist of the topic but sometimes hard to take what was actually relevant to exams etc.

If you asked a question you got a did they know or didn't they. They did not fake it. But 90% of time the had a good answer.
Know subject well good lectures	I would like to see better powerpoints
Always prepared for class, good speech and knew his material very well; also very nice and pleasant.	N/A
I learned plenty of things about Native American culture.
Speaks clearly and effectively explains material for anyone to grasp.	Sometimes gets boring.
It was a great cause. I didn't like spending time and effort on the essays and answering vague questions on 40 pages just to get a "minus." I don't even know what that translates to. It was a good course though.
Very knowledgeable of the field and very clear and enthusiastic teaching methods.	More feedback on work
Very informative, knew his stuff but class got boring.	Maybe to the time of the class, it was boring.
The teacher was always enthusiastic in class and really knew the subject. He also encouraged class participation.	He went though the notes really fast and it was hard to write and pay attention.
The teacher always kept the class interesting. Really encouraged us to give our own opinion and always look into consideration and led good discussion.
The instructor was knowledgeable, personable and accessible beyond class, enthusiastic and very careful about presentation. Had led difficult material well with class discussion – very fair. Good complement to Dr. Boulware – different personality, but complementary. I learned a lot.
He was clear, concise and always proficient with his knowledge of the subject. Each class makes you feel involved and has you think critically.	The only think I dislike about the class is the grading. They used a weird system where A's where + signs, B's / marks and I assume C's and D/F were – negatives. It was incomplete regarding feedback unless you asked.
Issac was always positive and fluid in speech, with eye contact and positive charisma. Relates relevant things, kept the question-answer deal moving well. He is always point.
Good teacher showed great enthusiasm for subject matter making class much better.
Excellent instructor, who showed knowledge of subject. And was very excited to teach. Responded to everyone's queries in a timely manner.
He knew his stuff and did not stutter	I have heard most of this stuff before
Went in depth on subjects. Really knew what he was talking about.
He was always ready to help. He was a very good teacher.	N/A

The instructor kept a lively atmosphere	The instructor often went too far off subject and lost the original topic
